Jewellery

Always aiming to offer something new, P-Watch is now extending its skills and services to the field of jewellery.

This applies not only to watchmaking jewellery (e.g. on a timepiece), but also extends to any other type of jewel (e.g. ring, bracelet, necklace).

Watchmaking and jewellery are distinct but related trades. They come together and complement each other when precious materials (metals or stones) are used to constitute a timepiece, since they require treatment and know-how specific to the field of jewellery.

A precious metal can represent the bracelet or certain components of a watch. Precious or semi-precious stones can be set on its bracelet, case or dial.

Whether for the jewelled parts of a timepiece, or for any other type of jewel, P-Watch's new service is able to restore, repair or recondition an old part, as well as adapt or modify a new one.

Thus, P-Watch can:

- Shorten or lengthen a watch bracelet, ring or necklace
- Reset an existing stone on a dial, a ring or earring
- Refresh and polish a precious metal on a bracelet (watch or jewel)
- Reset a new stone if the original has been lost, or the owner fancies a change
- Restore, repair or clean an old jewel
- Address any other specific wishes in terms of jewellery modification, restoration or repair

NB: The services available do not apply to jewellery creation, however P-Watch can put you in touch with its partner specialising in this field.
